

Hotel Nireus - Symi

Hotel Nireus is a modern purpose-built hotel right at the harbour entrance with stunning views across to the Turkish coast, and the clear blue Aegean water lapping less than five metres from the forecourt inviting you to swim or fish to your hearts content. The hotel has a restaurant and lounge bar.

a coffee shop and a large terrace with an outside dining terrace

A delightful five-minute walk along the harbour takes you to the centre of the main town Yialos with its shops and tavernas.

The 35 bedrooms are located on the hotel's first and second floors and are well decorated and furnished. Each has a telephone, radio, television, refrigerator, air conditioning, large fitted wardrobes, and an en-suite bathroom with shower, basin and WC.

Rooms at the front of the hotel have a sea-view, and most of these have private wrought iron balconies allowing their occupants to sit and enjoy the commanding views of the neighboring island of Nimos, and beyond that the Turkish mainland.

Bedrooms at the rear of the hotel have a small terrace,
